

May 24, 2018

Via email - Ed.Sims@westjet.com

Edward Sims
WestJet President and CEO
Calgary, Alberta

Dear Sir,

I write today on behalf of 18,000 Public Service Alliance of Canada members in British Columbia, many of whom are WestJet customers.

WestJet pilots play a crucial role in the success of WestJet Airlines.

We are disappointed to see that after eight months of negotiations, management is not prepared to provide pilots with a contract that is in line with their peers in terms of total compensation, healthy work rules, and job security.

We encourage you, as President and CEO, to take a leadership role in these negotiations, to listen to your pilots, to address their issues at the bargaining table and to negotiate a fair contract that values the contribution they make to the company.

It's time to close this deal!

Yours Truly,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Jamey Mills', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Jamey Mills
Regional Executive Vice-President, BC
Public Service Alliance of Canada

Cc: Captain Dan Adamus, President (Canada Board), Air Line Pilots Association
Chris Aylward, PSAC National President
PSAC members and staff in British Columbia

